

"Astounding Graft" Revealed In Chicago; Grand Jury Called

HIGH OFFICIALS IMPLICATED IN SEIZED PAPERS

"Daren't Even Talk About" Some Officers Involved, Raiders Say

Chicago—(P)—Records, described by prosecutors as "astounding graft" that reached into high places, was in possession of the law today for presentation to the special grand jury investigating the police department.

The records were seized from two safes found in the Rex hotel, headquarters on the south side for henchmen of Al "Scarface" Capone in an early Sunday morning raid. Assistant State's Attorneys Charles J. Mueller and Charles E. Lounsbery said they showed dealings between Capone gangsters, politicians, policemen, and public officials whose names they "did not even dare to talk about."

Dennis "the Duke" Cooney, operator of the hotel, the prosecutors said, was shown to have had "business or social connections" with various officials. "Purported 'pay-off' lists," ledgers and other papers pertaining to liquor, gambling and vice were among the documents seized.

Panic prevailed in the underworld after the raiders, described as "trustworthy" by the state's attorney, turned the keys of the hotel, and kept it under guard for more than four hours. Newspaper investigators reported that virtually every speakeasy in the Loop was quickly closed. So too were gambling houses.

Officers Seize Weapons
Cooney is reported to be in Florida. He is known as "the Duke" because he wears a different suit each morning, afternoon and night. In his place the officers found George "Tubby" Miller, whom they arrested, and 15 other men and six women. In addition to the records the officers found in the safes about $15,000 in currency, revolvers, blackjacks, a shotgun, and police night sticks.

While the raiders were in charge, two uniformed policemen and two detectives sauntered in, saying they had been under instructions to call at the place every hour to see if there were any violation of the law, but that they had never found any.

"How long," asked Mueller, "have you been blind?"

Miss Bernice Shaw, 34, was under subpoena to appear before the special grand jury today and testify regarding her charges that Police Sergeant Jack Herdger had been a "go-between" for vice operators and Jack Zita, slain business manager for George Moran's north side gang. Herdger was arrested on the charge of buying his promotion with $1,500 obtained from Zita. Hotel proprietors were summoned to testify regarding her charge that she lived with Herdger for four years, and bankers to tell of their reputed joint bank account of $16,000.

Former Congressman Harry W. Starr testified in a contest over Zita's will that the slain gangster told him he was forming an organization to support Mayor Thompson and expected to become "a power in politics."

TWO PRINCES ABOARD LINER FOR JOURNEY TO SOUTH AMERICA

Meet Several Delays in Exciting Trip to Santander, Spain

Santander, Spain—(P)—After an exciting trip from Paris, the prince of Wales and his youngest brother, Prince George, were enroute today aboard the liner Oropesa on an 18,000-mile journey which will culminate with their inauguration of the British trade exhibition in Buenos Aires in March.

The two princes were many hours late in reaching Santander, where they found the Oropesa, hauled up to a dock ready to begin the transatlantic trip. After stopping at Corona today, the vessel will proceed to Hamilton, Bermuda, and Kingston, Jamaica. The royal passengers will touch Central America and go on down the west South American coast.

The princes' trouble began late Saturday night when their train was held up 20 miles below Bordeaux by the derailment of a northbound train from the Spanish frontier. Awakened by the halt, both watched the work of clearing the track.

French railroad officials at Bayonne sent a special train to pick them up and carry them to Hendaye.

There, already four hours late, they transferred to motor cars, beginning a dangerous ride over sloppy mountain roads to Santander, watering place of the Spanish kings.

that in which Prince George was riding but no one was hurt.

It was 9:30 p. m. before the line of motorcars drew up before the quay in Santander. The princes jumped from the vehicles and, pleading fatigue to newspapermen who asked interviews, hurried aboard the Oropesa which left shortly afterward. There was a brief official welcome by Spanish provincial officials, the prince of Wales replying to each in Spanish.

The two princes flew Friday to Paris, spending the remainder of the day and Saturday there. They will not return to England until late in March.

FOUR ARRESTED IN TWO RAIDS ON ROADHOUSES

Plan to Arraign Alleged Offenders in Municipal Court Today

Sheriff's forces started a drive against roadhouses this weekend when four persons were arrested on various charges, including operating a dance hall without a license, possession of slot machines, operating a disorderly house and being an inmate of a house of ill-fame.

Two were arrested at midnight Saturday when a posse headed by Under Sheriff Edward Lutz raided the Traveler's Inn on Highway 41 between Appleton and Kimberly. Haywood Hall, formerly of Iron Mountain, was booked as keeper of the place and Miss Blanche Williams, who said she was from Milwaukee, was booked as an inmate. They were taken to the county jail where they are being held pending arraignment in municipal court Monday afternoon.

Warrants charging operating a dance without a license and a dance supervisor and operating slot machines were issued Monday morning for Lulu Blank and Harry Colmar, alleged to be proprietors of the Duck Inn on Highway 26 between New London and Hortonville. The place was visited late Saturday night by Charles Stadl, a motorcycle officer working under Sheriff Lappen. The officer signed the complaints on which warrants were based. They probably will be taken into court before Judge Berg Monday afternoon.

Extreme Care Required In Location Of Gardens

Few properties are so laid out as to provide an ideal vegetable garden site for varying reasons such as shade trees, the proximity of other buildings, the placing of the house on the ground space or other reasons. It is necessary to take the lay of the land as it is and pick out a garden spot as good as may be under the circumstances. In other words, make the best of the situation.

The fact that the home site does not offer an ideal place for vegetables should not prevent an effort

OUTLINE NEW TROOP RATING SYSTEM AT SCOUT CONFERENCE

Plan Will Go into Effect This Year, Scout Executive Reports

Plans for a new troop rating system to be put into effect in the valley council of boy scouts this year were outlined by M. G. Clark, valley scout executive, at a meeting of deputy scout commissioners in the scout offices on E. College-ave, late last week. Herb Hellig, chairman of the scout leaders training conference, presided.

The plan is designed to help the scoutmaster carry on an effective troop program and to measure a troop in comparison with similar organizations of the council and with a troop's own record, it was pointed out by Mr. Clark.

Five important factors will be taken into consideration. They are: attendance, advancement, outdoor activities, growth, and troop committee activities.

Only registered troops will be rated, and rating is to be done on a monthly plan. The first day of the month will mark the date of a new rating period.

A ribbon "streamer" to be displayed from the peak of the troop flag staff will be awarded each month to every troop attaining the standard of 85 points or more.

A gold star to be affixed to the flag will be awarded to each troop which scores an "honor troop" rating nine out of any 12 consecutive times. Each district will have an "honor flag" which will change hands each month, going to the troop in each district having the highest rating for the month.

to grow vegetables. In no other way can really fresh and highest quality vegetables be obtained. Any piece of ground, even as small as 5 by 6 feet, will grow a supply of something in the way of vegetables. The least size for an all around garden to give a reasonable supply is 20 by 20 feet and from this size up, but much can be done with even smaller space.

There is only one absolute necessity in selecting the garden location and that is sunlight for at least a portion of the day; the longer the garden may have the sun the better. However, good gardens are often seen in city back yards which get only a few hours of sun daily. If the garden can have sun from nine in the morning until three in the afternoon, any of the common vegetables can be grown successfully. Many of the standard vegetables can be grown with even less sun than this. This has been proved by actual experimental test. It is not an experiment of dubious result to try to grow vegetables on a partially shaded site.

Ideal soil isn't often found. Take the soil as you find it and proceed to build it up. This is no great task. The one feature to avoid is a low lying position that is always soggy and in which the water is bound to stand after rains. This is one feature that bars a site for successful vegetables until drainage has been supplied.

A vegetable garden 50 by 100 feet will furnish an adequate supply of vegetables for a family of six. Smaller families need smaller gardens and when the space is very limited select and specialize on a favorite vegetable.

Relief Of High Water Group To Fight Order Increasing Lake Level

WANTS MATTER HELD UP UNTIL AFTER HEARING

Suggests That Ruling Be Withheld Until Flood Survey Is Completed

An effort to have the war department rescind its order raising the level of Lake Winnebago is to be made by the Association for the Relief of High Water at Oshkosh. It was decided at a meeting of directors of that organization at Oshkosh Saturday.

Using every resource at its command the association plans to appeal to the war department to hold the matter open until it has held a public hearing and heard both sides of the question. The association points out that the department, which recently ordered the lake level raised to 213 inches above the level of the government dam at Menasha, acted without making a full investigation.

As its initial effort the association plans to seek the aid of Congress M. Reilly and Senators Robert M. La Follette and John Blaine to influence the war department to change its ruling. Congressman Reilly already has promised his assistance.

The Oshkosh organizations hopes that if the war department does not change its ruling it will, at least withhold enforcement of the order until the proposed flood-control survey of the valley, recently authorized by congress, is completed.

City To Help

Mayor T. G. Brown of Oshkosh has pledged the city's aid in the fight against the higher water level. He pointed out that Oshkosh would suffer many thousands of dollars damage if the higher level is permitted to go into effect. He said the city's sewer system is based on the 15-inch level and that many cellars will be flooded if the level is raised.

The order for raising the lake level was received last week from the war department. The change was ordered the department said, because experience with the 15-inch level during the last seven years has proved that it is harmful to the health and sanitation of lower Fox river valley cities.

Opposition to the lower level crystallized at a meeting of representatives of lower valley cities at Kaukauna several months ago. The meeting was called by Mayor B. W. Fargo of Kaukauna, and those present organized a group to fight for restoration of the higher level. All of the cities of the lower valley petitioned the war department to raise the level of the lake.

DECIDE TO MERGE INSURANCE FIRMS

Seymour and Morrison Mutual Tornado Companies to Be Combined

The Farmers' Mutual Tornado Insurance company, whose offices are in Morrison, Brown co. will merge with the $250,000 business with the Home Mutual Tornado Insurance company of Seymour, it was decided at a meeting of officers of the two companies at Morrison, Saturday. The following officers of the Seymour company attended the meeting: Edwin Diederich, Manitowish, president; Julius Bubolz, secretary; and Gordon A. Bubolz, assistant secretary and treasurer.

Although the Morrison Farmers' company has been in operation for 27 years, officers and stockholders believe their protection would be strengthened materially by merging with the Seymour company. Members at the meeting expressed the belief that the four companies in which the company was operating was too small a territory and that it would be to their advantage to merge with a state-wide institution doing business over an extended area.

The Morrison company had a membership of 1,300 policies and $250,000 insurance in force. Officers of the organization are William Saenger, Greenleaf, president; Frank Grueninger, Greenleaf, secretary.

Fifty new communicant members were taken in during 1930. Helmut Hall was elected chairman of the congregation for three years, Norman Teck and Walter Mueller were re-elected vestrymen for three years, and Harry J. FARMERS VOTE TO PUSH PLANS FOR MILK CO-OP

Producers in Appleton Territory Will Organize Local Branch

Six hundred farmers and their wives assembled at a dairymen's mass meeting in the auditorium of Wilson Junior high school Saturday with plans for organizing a local of the Pure Milk Products' Cooperative in the Appleton milk producing territory. The action was taken after the committee appointed at meetings of local dairymen in the court house, Appleton, and Center town hall, Jan. 3, had reported.

It also decided to hold a series of dairy organization meetings in school houses and town halls of the various communities and to appoint a local committee to take charge of local membership drives. The local committees will work in conjunction with the central committee. At each of the meetings speakers will explain the purposes of the Pure Milk Products' Cooperative and the meaning and necessity of the five year contract. It will be taken for granted that dairymen understand that they should take a hand in testing, weighing and marketing their milk.

The meeting of the central committee was announced to take place in the county court house at 7:30 Friday evening. The central committee was instructed to proceed with the greatest possible vigor.

Fifty dairymen from Winnebago in charge of County Agent O. P. Cuff, and an almost equal delegation from Brown co. in charge of County Agent J. N. Kananahugh, were present.

In the Brown co. delegation were Anton Allen, Henry Radin, John Roels, Frank Blundy, J. N. Kavanagh, Jacob Vendenplas, Henry Kiehnauer, Alfred Haffman, Walter Haffman and A. N. Sheldon.

Here is Report

The report of the milk marketing committee, which was adopted, as follows:

"Whereas, dairymen around practically all the large cities have their milk producing association.

"Whereas, these cooperative associations appear to render valuable service to their members and to the dairy industry in general.

"Whereas, dairymen of the Appleton district are not now associated in any way that might enable them to do collective bargaining in the sale of dairy products.

"Whereas, the Pure Milk Products' Cooperative of Wisconsin, backed by our State, is designed to help producers market to the best advantage milk going into city trade, condensing, and shipping.

"Therefore, we the committee appointed at December 17 mass meeting recommend: (1) That this group be organized as a local unit of the Pure Milk Products' Cooperative of Wisconsin. (2) That for the present all farmers be invited to affiliate themselves who are selling milk to or through the following concerns: Appleton Pure Milk Co., Fairmont Creamery Co., Appleton, George Danke Co., Neenah, Potts-Wood & Co., Outagamie Milk & Produce Co., and Borden Co., Greenville.

"Be it further recommended (1) That the Wisconsin Department of Markets be requested to push its investigation of the possibilities for the cooperative marketing of cream. (2) That, when said department of markets has found a possibility of improving cream marketing, those dairymen in this area whose product is sold or shipped in the form of cream be invited then to join this Appleton cooperative unit. (3) That all farmers whose milk is made into cheese be urged to consider joining the National Cheese Producers' Federation, and to strengthen this cooperative marketing movement.

"That we heed the appeal of the dairy advisory committee to the Federal Farm Board to increase the use of dairy products in our own homes by at least one pound of butter a week or its equivalent in cheese, cream or milk. (5) That since our agitation last winter and spring against the use of dairy substitutes in Outagamie county reduced the sale of the same considerably, we urge that all dairy men of Outagamie county continue to work against the use of dairy substitutes. (6) That we petition Honorable David Burnes, commissioner of internal revenue, to rescind the ruling exempting from the ten cent oleomargarine tax all oleomargarine made with unbleached palm oil without other artificial coloring, and that our U. S. Senators, Blaine and La Follette, and Congressman Schneider be petitioned to support us in this request.

Members On Committee

The members of the joint milk marketing committee are, Appleton—Frank Reimer, chairman; Nathan Van Handel; E. Paltzer; Paul Tank; George Foley; Phil Bady; Robert Winter; James McGann; August Schroeder; Edmund Kruhl; Albert Krueger; Edward Hardy; Theodore Schmitt; George Dietz; Otto Rohm; Philip Brown; E. A. Brown; and Chris Wunderlich; Center Valley, Fred Nitschke; Edward Holtz; Henry Liska; Walter Wickert; Oscar Eschbuhner; Leo Daffending; Alfred Wirth; Carl Kreutzmann; Louis Krueger; Gus Sedo; John Spears; Louis Nichols; and Fred Jenkel. The members of the executive committee are Reimer, Paltzer, Bady, Schroeder, Schmitt, Hardy, Krueger and Liska.

Speakers were: R. A. Peterson and H. L. Witte, both representing the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture and Markets; R. P. Ames, field man of the Pure Milk Products' Cooperative; Tom C. Cannon, president of the Pure Milk Products' Cooperative; Gus Erickson, president of the National Cheese Producers' Federation.

Under the present system of marketing their milk a farmer sells his milk cans on the roadside and lets the buyer pick up, and weigh, his cans and milk. The farmer, who thinks nothing about his plan of marketing until his milk check arrives, said one of the speakers. A study of the milk check reveals him a raise a storm in his home and hopes that somebody will help him get a higher price for his milk, but he does nothing himself, except to complain about weights, tins and prices.

One of the speakers explained the five year contract that farmers are required to sign to become members of the Pure Milk Products' Cooperative and declared that it is nothing more than an agreement among farmers to market collectively. The contract prevents the buyer from breaking up the cooperative by offering farmers a premium for milk.

Putting his name on the contract a farmer binds himself to stick to his members and his own good and the good of his neighbors.

JOBLESS GET WORK CLEANING CITY STREETS

Street Commissioner Hires Idle Men to Remove Snow from Streets

Besides giving Appleton a tidy taste of winter, the weekend snow brought jobs to 38 Appleton men who have been out of work most of the winter. With sidewalks banked with four or five inches of snow, over 100 men who have been coming the town for jobs stormed the doors of the street department barns Monday morning looking for a chance to wield one of the city snow shovels.

Following the policy "an early bird catches the worm," Theodore Albrecht street commissioner hired those who made an early appearance; those arriving after 8 o'clock were turned away.

About 60 men were busy shoveling walks Monday morning and three trucks, a power grader and a tractor were removing snow from the streets. A new method of snow removal on College-ave pushing it to the center of the street instead of to the two sides, has been inaugurated, with a view to making snow loading easier.

Although about three or four inches of snow fell in the county over the weekend, it was not necessary to order out the county's snow removal equipment Monday morning because there was no wind and the snow did not drift sufficiently to cause any trouble. Frank Appleton, highway commissioner, said that practically all the roads in the county were in good shape, despite the snow. However, the highways are slippery.

CHURCH VOTES TO BUY PIPE ORGAN

Congregation Also Plans to Redecorate Interior of Edifice

The first step in a $20,000 building program was taken by St. Paul Lutheran congregation at an annual meeting Sunday at which it was decided to purchase a new pipe organ for the church. During the latter part of this year and the beginning of 1932 the church will buy an organ, redecorate the interior of the church, construct a floor in the basement, and install a new heating plant. Committees to plan this work will be appointed the latter part of January.

Timothy Sauer and Henry Oehlke were re-elected trustees for three years. Emil Bolling was elected recording secretary to succeed Adolph Jahnke, and Robert Laedtko was elected to the school board in place of Robert Schmiede.

Fourteen new members, 11 men and three women, were received on Sunday, bringing the church membership up to 477 voting members and 2,000 souls. The gross gain in membership for the year was 27, although deaths and change of residence reduced the actual gain to four.

The speakers thrashed out every angle of the financial losses that dairymen are suffering as a result of an unfair division of consumer prices of dairy products and underconsumption and proposed collective marketing as the only cure. It is financial suicide for farmers, the speakers urged; for individual farmers to sell their products to organized groups of buyers cooperating in their money-making schemes. At the speakers urged that dairy farmers should sell cooperatively through such farm organizations as the Pure Milk Products' Cooperative, the National Cheese Producers' Federation, The Land O'Lakes' Creameries and Farmers' Livestock Shipping associations.

Under the present system of marketing their milk a farmer sells his milk cans on the roadside and lets the buyer pick up, and weigh, his cans and milk. RESUME PROBE OF JUDGES IN TWO BOROUGHES

Three Magistrates Resign and Fourth Has Been Suspended

New York —(P)— Public hearings will be resumed tomorrow in an investigation of city magistrates, featured already by the resignation of three and the suspension of a fourth.

The inquiry is being conducted by Samuel Seabury as referee of the appellate division of the state supreme court with Isidor J. Kresel as counsel. It applies to the magistrates' courts of Manhattan and the Bronx. These boroughs have 25 magistrates whose functions are those of judges in police courts.

A by-product of the inquiry, more sensational in some respects than the development involving the magistrates themselves, has been wholesale transfers and suspension of members of the police vice squad, accused in testimony of "framing" innocent women and of leaguely with bondsmen and lawyers to mulct arrested persons. Several policemen are on departmental trial now. One has been indicted for perjury.

The inquiry into magistrates' courts, authorized by the appellate division of the state supreme court at Governor Roosevelt's behest, is the climax of a succession of episodes which have involved members of the judiciary in New York city in the last 18 months.

In that year and a half seven judges have resigned under fire or have been removed from the bench. Three have been under indictment—two of them charged with felonies both in state and federal courts. One was sentenced to serve six years in federal prison.

Early in 1929 the City Trust company failed. General Sessions Judge Francis X. Mancuso was its chairman. He resigned his judicial post and was indicted on a misdemeanor charge, but the indictment was quashed.

Charge "Framed" Holdup A few months later Magistrate Albert H. Vitale was guest of honor at a dinner in the Bronx, which was held up. Police Commissioner Whelan charged the holdup had been "framed," and that Vitale knew of it. Bar association charges were brought against Vitale and he was removed from the magistracy.

In March, 1930, a federal grand jury indicted W. Bernard Vause, Brooklyn co. judge, for mail fraud in connection with the Columbia Finance corporation's failure. He resigned his judgeship, was convicted in federal court and was sentenced to six years in Atlanta prison.

Another federal grand jury, investigating the sale of stolen Buick Mine stock, indicted George F. Ewald, magistrate and an officer of the company, for mail fraud. During his deliberations Charles H. Tuttle, then federal attorney and later defeated Republican candidate for governor, unearthed a $10,000 payment by Ewald and his wife to Martin J. Healy, leader of Ewald's Tammany district. Tuttle charged the $10,000 was a consideration for Ewald's appointment to the city bench.

Ewald resigned. A special grand jury indicted the Ewalds, Healy and two more on office-buying and office-selling charges.

Two juries have disagreed in Healy's. Last Saturday the trial of Mr. and Mrs. Ewald also ended in a disagreement. Whether they will be tried again will be decided this week.

While the Ewald investigation was in full cry a supreme court justice, Joseph Force Crater, dropped from sight. Although efforts were made to link his disappearance on August 6, 1930, with pending judicial investigations no such connection ever developed. Nobody professes to know today whether he is alive or dead, or why he vanished.

WESTON TO EXAMINE ROMAN RUINS, RELICS

Dr. A. H. Weston, professor of Latin language and literature at Lawrence college, told Lawrence students what he expects to see in Europe next summer, in an address at student convocation this morning. Prof. Weston plans to visit many Roman ruins and examine relics taken from them.

Dr. and Mrs. Weston plan to sail Feb. 4 from New York on the steamship Roma. They will be accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. Trevor. Westons will spend most of their time in Italy, traveling to Switzerland, south Germany and England in June and July, and returning to America from England during August.

FORMER TEACHERS HERE TAKE NEW POSITIONS

Miss Gertrude Thues, who formerly taught English and German, has accepted a position in the English department of Oshkosh high school. She will assume her duties at the beginning of the second semester. Raymond Hanson, who was head of the commercial department last year, will enter the commercial department of South Division high school in Milwaukee at the close of the first semester. Mr. Hanson has been studying at the Whitewater state teachers college.

INJURED MANAWA BOY BEGINS TENTH DAY OF UNCONSCIOUSNESS

Although the youth is being fed by hospital attendants, it is reported there has been little or no change in his general condition. He is suffering from a fractured skull.

REQUIEM MASS IS SUNG AT CHAPEL BY SCHOLA CANTORUM

Months of Practice Is Shown in Artistic Presentation

A spirited, majestic presentation of the inspiring choral work, Verdi's Requiem Mass, was given by Schola Cantorum under the direction of Dean Carl J. Waterman at Lawrence Memorial chapel Sunday evening. In its tone quality, easy change from delicate melody to powerful chorus work, and response to the director, the chorus showed the results of practice, and four soloists proved their merit as oratorio soloists.

Soprano solos were sung by Miss Gertrude Farrell, contralto parts by Miss Helen Mueller, the bass role by Carl McKee and the tenor part by Wilbur Evans of Milwaukee.

The number "The Sanctus," the final fugue, "Lord Deliver Me," and "The Day of Wrath" were the most enthusiastically received by the large audience.

The first of the seven parts of the mass, the "Introit" and "Kyrie" for quartet and chorus, was treated artistically, and the first portion being the melody "Et Lux Perpetua." The second section, the hymn, "Dies Irae" was done in a remarkably effective fashion from the powerful, almost startling chorus, "Dies Irae," to the majestic "Lacrymosa" at the end. This division also included "Tuba Mirum," a magnificent trumpet chorus, "Libera Scriptus," a mezzo soprano solo, the adagio trio "Quid sum Miser," for soprano, alto and tenor.

"Requies Aeterna," the prayer, "Requiescat," a duet for soprano and alto with chorus, the tenor solo, "Ingenium," and the majestic bass solo "Confutatis."

The extremely simple but original "Angus Del," the fifth part of the mass, was interpreted in an artistic manner by the soprano and alto soloists, as was the sixth section, "Lux Aeterna" by a trio made up of Farrell, Mr. Evans and Mr. McKee. The final part, "Libera Me," written by Verdi in honor of Rossini, was closed with the majestic "Credo." The body of the mass as given in counterpoint as in melody.

SLIDES CHANGE APPEARANCE OF NIAGARA FALLS

Rift Cuts Deeply into 1,000-foot Crest of American Falls

Niagara Falls, N. Y.—(AP)—The famous Horseshoe falls between Goat Island and the Canadian shore had a new aspect today because of rock slides during the weekend.

The 1,000-foot crest of the American falls before the slides was in an unbroken line, but there now is a rift in the line about 300 feet from Luna Island.

The U-shaped indentation in the brink created by the slide is estimated to be 150 to 200 feet deep and 150 feet in width.

Apparently the Cave of the Winds has not been affected, though the broken rock and stone may have obstructed the pathway leading to this scenic feature of the falls. Because of the prevalence of ice and snow, no attempt has been made to enter the cave. A fall of rock in the cave eight years ago injured several sightseers.

Dr. Reginald H. Pegrum, geology professor at the University of Buffalo, said that while erosion was the main cause of the slide, "winter weather and the ice, causing cracks and scars in the rock surface, undoubtedly were contributing factors."

Remedial measures to minimize erosion, preserve the beauty of the falls and provide for a greater division of water for power purposes have been held up for two years because of the failure of the United States senate to ratify a treaty drawn up by the international board, composed of engineering representatives of the American and Canadian governments, and signed by members of this board Jan. 2, 1929. The plan, the estimated cost of which was $1,750,000, was ratified by the Canadian parliament May 20, 1929. The protocol never was reported out of senate committee.

Only 6 per cent of the Niagara river flow is over the American falls. Under the treaty the flow on the American side of the cataract would be greatly increased and made more even by a series of underwater dams, or weirs, as they are termed by engineers.

Nature's upheaval at the falls drew many visitors.

Your Question And Its Answer

By J.A. Panneck, D.C.
Palmer Chiropractor

QUESTION: I am a practicing nurse. Have nursed for thirty years. I have been suffering with stomach trouble for 10 years, tried everything in my profession with little or no relief. I would take adjustments if I thought it would relieve me. Please answer through your column.
—A READER.

ANSWER: The Chiropractor knows that the life force which operates in the body over the nerves directs all the functions of the organs. The life force tells the liver when to secrete bile, and how much bile to secrete, and when to quit; it tells the stomach when to work, and how hard to work, and how much gastric juice to make, and how strong to make it, and when to quit; it tells the kidneys when to work and when to quit work.

All this goes on when we are asleep. We do not have to think in order for the organs to work. This force tells the heart when to beat and how strong to beat. Food taken into the mouth is sent to the stomach, and from the stomach to the intestines where it is absorbed. The whole process of digestion as well as elimination, is directed by this life force which is sent out from the BRAIN over the nerves. Food will not digest, and the kidneys will not act in a body which does not have this life force. And if this life force is interfered with in any manner, there will be a corresponding interference somewhere in the body. If the nerves to the stomach are impinged on, that is pinched there will be some interference with the stomach, it will lack either a muscular activity or in the quality of the gastric juice, or the organ itself may become diseased with tumor or ulcer, or some other trouble, depending on what nerves are involved.

The Chiropractor is taught the distribution of nerves and knows just where the nerves which control these organs are interfered with. Therefore, have your spine examined by a competent Chiropractor at once.

EXPORT EXCESS OVER IMPORTS SHOWS DECLINE

Drop of $60,000,000 in 1930 Compared to 1929 Is Reported

BY CHARLES F. SPEARE
(Copyright, 1931, by Cons. Press)
Wall Street, New York (CPA)—
Striking a balance between merchandise exports and imports for 1930, the amounts of which were published Saturday by the department of commerce, it is found that the excess of exports over imports
during the year was $730,000,000
compared with the merchandise export balance in 1929 of $840,000,000.
This balance is affected so far as international money movements are concerned by the net results of the
in-and-out movements of gold and by the large number of items that go to make up what is known as the "invisible trade balance." The finance division of the department of commerce is now compiling from the latter group which it will present in its annual summary of the entire
trade balance question some months
hence.

The fact that last year witnessed a heavy decline in the amount of foreign loans offered in the United States, with almost none in the second six months of 1930, and that during the year many large dollar
loans were paid off or their amounts materially reduced by calls or sinking fund operations, will play quite
a part in making up the final estimate of the credit balance position
of this country for the year.
The separate statistics of December foreign trade indicate that the outward and inward movement of merchandise is being seriously affected by the contracted purchasing power of foreign countries, plus the higher tariff enacted into law some months ago. Exports last month
showed a decrease of $158,000,000, or 36 per cent, from the amount in December, 1929. This compares with a decline in November of 34.7 per cent from the same month the year previous. The decrease has been progressive for some months.
Imports in December decreased $101,500,000, or 32 per cent. This loss in percentage is not so high as
that of November, which reached nearly 40 per cent, and the dollar amount for December was greater than for November. It is necessary,
however, to go back in the record
to such years as 1924 and 1921 to find foreign trade figures as unsatisfactory as those now being published. Not only are they affected by a falling off in shipments in some lines as much as 30 to 40 per cent,
but by the heavy drop in the prices
of the goods or commodities exported or imported.

There is a close connection between the merchandise trade figures and the present movement in the foreign exchanges. Saturday exchange on London and on Berlin
was quoted at the lowest figures in many months, not only because of business conditions in Germany and in Great Britain, but due to political uncertainties. The mark and the pound sterling have been under pressure for a long while. It was assumed after the federal reserve bank
in New York reduced its discount rate to 2 per cent that this might lead to shipments of gold abroad
and help to effect a better distribution of gold supplies. There is as yet no evidence that this is likely
during the first quarter of this year.

NEW AIR BEACON SHINES 50 MILES

Two 2,000,000 Candle Power Beams from One 1,200
Candlepower Light

Cornell, N. Y.—(AP)—A new air beacon that shines 50 miles on a hoisting of power was announced
today by the Corning Glass works.
Two beams, each of 2,000,000
candle power, are obtained from a single 1,200 candle power incandescent light.
The principle is like standing a candle on a table and setting up on opposite sides two lenses each of which magnifies the light on its own side 1,700 times. Thus nearly all the light is used, concentrated into two beams in opposite directions.
Special lenses, 18 inches in diameter, invented at the Corning works
are the heart of the new beacon.
They are housed in a double end lamp three feet in diameter, one on each side of the 1,200 candle power light.
One of them collects from one side
of the light all the rays in a wide angle of 145 degrees, bends them and concentrates them into a single fairly compact beam. This in turn is reflected and concentrated by an outer lens into a 2,000,000 candle power beam of approximately five degrees
spread. This outer lens is three feet
in diameter.
On the opposite of the light a similar set of lenses gathers the other half of the rays into the second 2, 000,000 candle power beam.
A white flash followed by red will mean that there is no landing field in the vicinity. White and green will indicate that the light is in close proximity to a landing place.
The beacon is intended especially for transcontinental lines, with the idea of placing them 10 to 15 miles apart. They are made for the aviation section of the U. S. Department of Commerce.

A Lecture on Christian Science

A Lecture on Christian Science entitled "Christian Science: The Revelation of Reality by Charles V. Winn,
C. S. of Pasadena, California, member of the Board of Lectureship of
The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, was given under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Lawrence Memorial Chapel Sunday afternoon, January 18th. Following is an excerpt
from the Lecture:

A subject that is engaging the most earnest thought and attention of men today is that of reality. So rapid have been the changes in the affairs of mortals that former theories about reality have been overturned with startling suddenness. In the light of modern discoveries many theories about what is true and real are no longer tenable. When one can send a message from Schneecady, New York to Australia and back, a distance of about 20,000 miles, in a few seconds, then the theory of a material universe separated by time and space is seen as an absurdity. With former beliefs concerning reality being thus overthrown, it is small wonder that the world is in a constant state of flux and change. However, it is not a time of despair but of great hopefulness, for in the midst of all the turmoil and confusion Christian Science has come to the world to satisfy the deepest human need and to reveal an understanding of divine reality that will plant our feet
firmly on the rock of eternal and unchanging Truth. Nothing less can ever suffice, for Truth alone is real,
and reality is always true.

Nature of God
Since that alone possesses reality
which reflects God, then a true knowledge of God is essential in order to understand that which is real.
At this point it may be stated that Christian Science is founded entirely on the Scriptures. Mrs. Eddy declared, as shown in "Miscellaneous Writings" (p. 159), that within the Bible pages she had found all the divine science she preached. And so in defining Deity she adheres strictly to Scriptural definitions. Of Him
she says "God is what the Scriptures
declare Him to be—Life, Truth,
Love" (Science and Health, p. 339).
Here is a definition of Deity which may well engage our most earnest
thought and which will so enlighten us as to the eternal verities of being that untold blessings will follow.

God in the very nature of His being must be infinite. That God could be limited in any way is unthinkable. God being infinite and Life, there must be one infinite Life.
All forms of life must proceed from
and be the expression of this one infinite Life. All creation must have its being in and be sustained by one creative Life. This infinite Life must be "our Father-Mother God, alpharharmous" (Science and Health,
p. 15) and must be perfect and eternal. It must be everywhere manifesting its life-giving qualities and upholding in perfect harmony all its ideas, or creation. If there were an element of friction or discord in Life, then Life would eventually be self-destructed. Everything that truly exists must express this one infinite Life, which always manifests
itself in vitality, strength, health,
wisdom and perfect action.

Christian Science is Provivable
What I have said is not only sound logic, but it can be proved in a most practical way. When the great truths of Christian Science were revealed to Mrs. Eddy she did not at once give them to the world.
She waited three years before she began to teach them, and then only after nine years did she present them in her textbook. She saw that they must be put to the test through demonstration. She saw that if "demonstration and spiritual understanding are God's immortal realities, proved to be such by our Master and evidenced by the work
who are cured and by the answers
who are reformers" (Science and Health, p. 355).

Let us see how this great truth
can be utilized in a most practical way. There is nothing, for example, more interesting and important than the subject of health.
The vast amount of time and money of the Christ necessarily dispels the

spent in trying to gain it and maintain it shows how highly it is prized.
That health is sometimes thought to be the exception, rather than the rule, is self-evident from the fact that a very large percentage of diseases, according to human theories, are said to be incurable. In these cases material systems claim that health cannot be had under any conditions. Now, it is coming to be conceded more and more that back of every case of ill-health is a certain amount of fear. And in every instance you will find that at the bottom of one's fear is a belief that something can destroy, impair, or take away life. Christian Science, however, shows that God is man's life, that man's life is one with the Father, "hid with Christ in God," that this life is not material,
not subject to matter, material laws,
or material conditions, but is protected, upheld and maintained by God and therefore can never be lost or extinguished. When these great facts are scientifically understood and declared, the tension of fear begins to relax, faith in God increases,
and disease is perfectly and permanently healed. There are innumerable cases on record where the so-called incurable and dying have been raised to life and health through this demonstrable system of practical Christianity.

Truth Is Positive
The practical application of this divine verity is indeed the "pearl of great price." Whatever one believes to be real will govern his thinking
and acting; and because mortals
have believed in the reality of both
truth and error, human thinking
has been largely negative thinking.
The medical systems have concerned themselves for the most part with disease and its symptoms, or the opposite of health; scholastic theology
has dealt almost altogether with sin
and its dire consequences or the oppositional opposite of good; human law has given its attention very largely to providing penalties for the infraction of its laws; education
has given its attention chiefly to material so-called science rather than to spiritual Science.

Now Christian Science, through its cognition of positive truth and divine reality, puts us on the constructive side. It shows us how to dwell on the positive, not the negative; the right not the wrong; the real, not the unreal or the shadow. If you were going to paint a picture of a beautiful lake, you would not choose a stagnant pool for a model. If you were going to build an automobile
you would not take an oxcart for a model nor would you attempt to carve a beautiful statue while looking at an imperfect form.

Jesus' Healing Method
Why was our great Master, Christ
Jesus, the most successful healer,
teacher and reformer that the world has ever known? Because he always thought, taught, and saw the positive, constructive fact and not the negative opposite. If a sinner came to him he did not constantly see and talk about a sinner. He saw God's child and the positive fact about him—his goodness, purity and perfection—and the sinner was reformed. He always condemned the sin, but he loved mankind whom he came to save from sin. Referring to a man blind from his birth, the disciples asked Jesus who had sinned, this man or his parents. In both words, "What has brought about this seemingly real condition, they said, for here it is. Jesus answered substantially, 'Neither has this man
sinned, nor his parents; but he exists that the works of God should be made manifest in him.'—that he should manifest good, spiritual, sight and all other Godlike faculties. And as a result the man was healed. At another time Jesus was called to heal Lazarus' daughter. When he arrived, the child had apparently passed on, but this did not deter the Master from completing his work.
He put out all those that were encouraging any negative, doubt or fearful thoughts, and through his words, constructive thought of Life, the girl was restored.

PUBLIC SERVICE OF NEW JERSEY IS PROFITABLE FIRM

It Serves Important Territory and It Boasts of Fine
Record

BY GEORGE T. HUGHES
(Copyright, 1931, by Cons. Press)
(Editor's Note: This is the twenty-fifth article of a series on the subject of public utilities, covering the principal operating and holding companies, giving their history,
field of operations and an analysis of the capital structure. Mr. Hughes will discuss bonds as well as stocks
but will present the facts without any attempt to recommend purchase
or sale of specific securities.)

New York—Because of the importance of the territory it serves, as well as its long record of profitable
operation, the securities of the Public Service Corporation of New Jersey have long occupied a prominent place in the utility field. The Corporation's direct funded indebtedness is comparatively small but the subsidiaries have large obligations outstanding, all of which, however, as far as they are assumed or guaranteed by the parent company,
are high-grade investments.
One of the most interesting issues
included in the former classification
is the Perpetual Interest Bearing 6 per cent Certificates. These have no maturity date and although secured only by stock have the credit
of the Public Service behind them.
In recent markets they have sold to yield well over 5 per cent, an attractive return for an investment of that grade. One drawback is the comparative market inactivity but that is of little importance to those who buy for long term holding.

The Public Service Corporation
has four issues of preferred stock, paying 5 per cent, 6 per cent, 7 per cent and 8 per cent dividends respectively. They are all non-callable, an important advantage in times of advancing prices for fixed rate investments. They all have equal claim on earnings but the 8 per cent preferred, as a matter of right, shares
in any other extended to common stockholders to subscribe new capital, whether in bonds or in stocks.
Public Service common stock
fluctuates in market price over a wide range. From the high of 1929, which was over $127 a share, it sold down to a low of $54. In 1930 the spread was not quite so wide but even then there were almost 60
points between the high and the low.
The present dividend rate on the common is $3.40 a share annually.
In 1929 earnings available for disbursements on the junior stock were $5.92 a share, not a large margin but sufficient. The accounts for 1930 are not available at this writing. For the first 9 months of the year there was only a negligible
falling off from the same period in the preceding year, but in the last three months there was a sharp depression in normal times the common stock is entitled to an investment rating.

fect creation.

WISCONSIN WOMEN REPORT $9,000 FOR FOUNDATION FUND

Result of Campaign Revealed at Mid-Winter Directors' Meeting

BY RUBY A. BLACK
(Post-Crescent Washington Bureau)
Washington—Wisconsin has collected $9,000 of its $40,000 quota for the General Federation of Women's Clubs foundation fund and is third
among the states in its receipts, according to the report made by Mrs.
Edward Hammett of Sheboygan, national treasurer, at the annual midwinter board of directors' meeting
now being held in the national capital.
One half of the money collected
remains with the state organization of the Federation and one-half goes to the national organization. Of its $20,000 portion, Wisconsin has voted to set aside the first $10,000 as a memorial to Mrs. Harvey Frame of Waukesha, former state president and state director, who died recently while in office. It will be known as the Twest Ardis Frame memorial, and interest from the endowment will be used for special work
designated by the state president
each year.
Other Wisconsin women attending
the present meeting, which began with executive sessions Tuesday,
and will continue through Saturday
are Mrs. Ben Hooper of Oshkosh, chairman of the Committee on International Affairs who made a report to the meeting Thursday; Mrs. L.
A. Leadbetter of Rhinelander, recently elected state president; Mrs.
A. H. Shoemaker of Eau Claire, who is again serving as state director,
having taken the position after the death of Mrs. Frame; and Mrs. Jo-siab Hodgins of Marinette, trustee of the national foundation and co-chairman with Mrs. Hammett, of the foundation fund in Wisconsin.
Wisconsin has turned $3,500 over to the national treasury and has another $1,000 ready to send in. The only states surpassing the Badger
state's record are Massachusetts,
with $13,250, and Nebraska, $4,520.
The use of Mrs. Frame's name in connection with the first $10,000 collected for the state, and so, according to the plan, also the first $10, 000 for the national organization, has greatly hurried contributions, according to Mrs. Hammett, and has accomplished almost as much as Mrs.
Frame would have wanted and
might have been able to do.
Mrs. Hammett is staying at the Washington headquarters of the Federation with the other officers,
while Mrs. Hooper, Mrs. Leadbetter, Mrs. Shoemaker and Mrs. Hodg-
ins are all at the Mayflower hotel.

Mrs. Hooper will remain over for the Cause and Cure of War conference next week. Mrs. Hammett will leave for home Saturday. The plans of the other three Wisconsin
delegates are not yet definite.

Poetry society of America, saving
the verdict to Lewis with these words:
"Main Street is the simple truth,
that's all. There is a terrible dearth of culture, understanding and knowledge in small American towns. An artistic desert prevails. I do not think the Americans are an artistic people.
No great literature has ever come out of the west or south."

President, The Curtis Publishing Company

● "The Audit Bureau of Circulations has probably done more to stabilize the advertising business than any other agency has ever done or attempted to do, and in the course of years it has strengthened itself
and secured the confidence of advertisers
to such an extent that its activities at the present time are indispensable."

Cyrus H. Curtis

LEE W. MAXWELL

President, The Crowell Publishing Company

● "I feel that the organization of the Bureau was a great step forward in putting advertising on a much sounder basis. There is no question but that it has been an important factor in creating greater confidence in advertising and in advertising
media on the part of American business men. I am glad to realize that our company has been a supporter of the Bureau
from its inception."

Lee W. Maxwell

● What a fortunate thing that advertising undertook, and today
successfully does, the needed regulatory work of advertising.

Of the moves through which advertising won the confidence of business, this is one of the greatest.
It began sixteen years ago—with the foundation of the Audit Bureau
of Circulations.

Ever since its inception, men
who have built the publications of America—men in whose publications business spends millions of dollars for space—have fostered
the work of the A. B. C. Their cooperation has made it possible to place in the hands of all purchasers
of space, the means to a sound,
reliable measure of values.

How many in advertising today
fully use this positive protecting

power the Bureau makes available?
Hundreds do, of course. But additional hundreds, the Bureau
believes, are not as yet guarding
the appropriation this sure way.

It is valuable information—that contained in the Bureau's Audit Reports. And the whole story never is told on the first page of the report. On the inside pages are facts and data everyone buying
space has a right to know.

Reports of the Bureau cover almost every important publication in America. Publishers expect and want men buying advertising to use them.

As a recognition of service, not only publishers and agencies, but a

Parents Must Do As Well As Know Right

BY ANGELO PATRI

"TWINK KNOWING AND DOING"

There is a wide gap between knowing what is good to do, and in doing it. First, because we are likely to fall short of the great effort, the heroic effort that is necessary to put ideas into practice. Dreaming is very easy. Ideas look fine on paper, sound well in a story or on the platform. But before they are put to work, somebody must sweat and ache and endure and triumph. And the best of us hate to do any of that. The knowledge is clear but the doing is dim in the distance.

I was thinking about schools. We all know that children ought to have the best schools possible. We know, too, about what is needed in the best schools. A good building that offers light and air and space and all the facilities for cleanliness and work.

We know that children need activity. We know that the old way of book lessons and tests and routine promotions will no longer answer. We know that our school must come close to the life of today and cease to dwell in the ways of the past. We know that health depends upon sanitation and recreation, and diet, and mental happiness. Oh, we know so much, so much. But what do we do?

In my mail to-day there is a letter from a distressed mother who says that the teacher demands a composition without a mistake and that her little daughter must stay in bed after day rewriting a composition so that there will not be a single error from beginning to end. We know better than that, don't we? Another tells how there are no drinking facilities in their little school, only a tin cup and a pump. Nor any way of washing hands. And the toilets are outdoor ones without care of supervision. And we know better than that, don't we?

From another village comes the story of a right rule that makes a child pass every subject in a grade before passing to the next and a boy has been held back for two terms in the same grade because he cannot spell. He can pass the other subjects but this one stands in his way. We know better than to keep a child standing like that, don't we? The waste of money and time, and the unpardonable waste of childhood's fleeting moments.

Oh, there is so much we know and so little we do about it. It is mainly because we cannot feel that spending more money on education is right. We pay taxes and taxes are hard to scrape together. True enough. But we know that every dollar we pay for the better sort of education is repaid in the next generation. Two-fold. An intelligent citizen is above price. We know that, don't we?

If we lived up to what we know we would be a wonderful people. That is too much to ask because one always knows more than he can get into daily practice. But we can be uneasy about it, we can keep reaching for the highest plane, we can keep coming nearer and nearer instead of just standing still and so falling as behind, can't we? Then let's set about it. Let's try to shorten the gap between knowing and doing where these children are concerned. (Copyright, 1931, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

BURGLARS GET $300 IN CASH FROM THEATRE

Endorsed Check for $218 and Coupon Books Included in Loot

Menasha — Burglars obtained over $300 in cash, an endorsed check for $218, and 173 $5 coupon books at the Brin theatre Sunday evening. The thieves apparently hid in the theatre earlier in the evening, took the small safe in which the receipts were kept, left through a side door and drove away.

The job was apparently done between 11 and 12 o'clock. Al Wassman, manager of the Scholastic theatre, said that a resident of the theatre apartments, stated that the lights were on in one of the theatre rooms about 11:45. Theatre employees are said to have left earlier. A small sedan was seen near a side entrance of the theatre about that time and a rim wrench from a Chevrolet car was found by police officers Monday morning.

Because the floor through which the thieves left the theatre had been wared from the inside, police believe that managers were somewhere in the building before employees left for the night. No marks were found to indicate that entrance had been forced from the outside.

The safe taken from the theatre was small enough to be carried easily by two men, measuring 30 inches in height and 24 in width. Little can be gained from the theft of the coupon books, which are all numbered and easily identified, and payment can be stopped on the check. Although the safe was taken on the same floor as the apartment rooms, no one heard unusual sounds at the time.

Theatre patrons have been warned by Manager LeVos not to purchase coupon books except at the theatre office. Police have asked that anyone offering to sell the books be reported to authorities.

Johnny Golden Beats George Von Elm In Agua Caliente Playoff

EARLY MARGIN GIVES EASTERN PRO ADVANTAGE

Horton Smith Wins Third Money, Ed Dudley Fourth; Hagen Trails

AGUA CALIENTE, Mexico.—(AP)—With the lion's share of the $25,000 prize money from the Agua Caliente open tournament in their pockets, John Golden, Norton, Conn., pro, the victor, and George Von Elm, "business man golfer," led the wanderers of the fairways back into the United States today.

The golfing army will rest until Thursday, when the $5,000 motion picture match play tournament, the final winter skirmish in the west, opens in Los Angeles.

Golden beat Von Elm 75 to 79 for the Agua Caliente title here yesterday in an 18-hole playoff after having tied with scores of 293 in the 72 holes which ended Saturday.

While the two leaders agreed they would divide evenly first place money of $10,000 and second prize of $3,500, giving each $6,750, the 18-hole medal test was necessary to decide who should claim the title and the diamond studded gold medal.

Gold Out In Front

Golden jumped into the front on the first hole and was never headed, although Von Elm caught up with him at the eighth and rallied vainly again at the fourteenth. As a result, the solid easterner turned the first nine in 37, one over par, compared with the business golfer's 38, and increased his advantage to five strokes on the first three holes of the home round.

Superior approaches gave Golden the edge, although Von Elm putted poorly. The victor came back in 38, two over par, for a 75, while the blond Los Angeles expert took 41 f 79.

Golden's score was excellent, for a heavy wind swept the course and made the first eight and eighth particularly tough, with the wind playing full into the blow which swept through Tijuana valley. Cross winds made the shots uncertain on many of the other holes.

The Leading Player

The leading money winners of the tournament proper: Johnny Golden, 293—$6,750.00. George Von Elm, 293—$6,750.00. Horton Smith, 295—$2,000.00. Ed. Dudley, 296—$1,012.50. Ole Dutra, 296—$1,012.50. Morrie Dutra, 296—$1,012.50. Clarence Clark, 296—$1,012.50. Leo Diegel, 297—$625.00. Wiffy Cox, 297—$625.00. Gene Sarazen, 298—$500.00. Walter Hagen, 298—$500.00.

Merchants Defeated by O. R. Kloehe; Blue Jays Beat Holy Name Team

Scoring five points in an overtime period, the O. R. Kloehe basketball team defeated the Little Chute Merchants at the village 25 and 20, the game being started last week. The count at the end of regular period was 7 all, and the battle waged even throughout the remainder of the game.

In the extra session the Kloehe's scored a field goal and a free throw and then C. Heckert looped another basket and the Merchants had little chance of winning.

A preliminary to the Merchant-Kloehe game saw the Appleton Blue Jays beat the Little Chute Holy Name team, 14 and 12. The Jays led 8 and 2 at half time, the Holy Name team rallying a bit to play better than even ball in the last half.

RIPON HOPES FOR WIN OVER VIKINGS

Crimson Quintet Has Defeated Beloit and Knox This Season

Ripon—With scalps of two Midwest and one Big Four conference opponent tucked away, the Ripon college Redmen will continue their Big Four loop race against the Lawrence college Vikings at Appleton Tuesday evening, Jan. 20.

In their initial conference appearance this season the Redmen, under the tutelage of last year's captain, "Red" Martin, captured a thrilling last minute victory from Beloit. The game marked Coach Martin's debut as a Midwest and Big Four loop coach.

Against the Lawrence Vikings Tuesday, Coach Martin expects to present in his starting lineup all but one of Ripon's last year lettermen. His brother and captain, Rodney Martin, has recovered from injuries sustained during the football season, and will be cavorting at his favorite guard berth. Ralph Cooke, fifth veteran on the Redmen quintette, was forced to leave the squad because of ill health. In his place the Ripon mentor will employ either Jensen or Steinman, guards, to pair with Capt. Martin, and Johnson, center, and Christ and Falconer, forwards, will complete the starting quintette.

MADISON—Returning to their early season form after lapses against Michigan and Ohio State, the University of Wisconsin cagers completely outplayed Iowa here Saturday night to win by the convincing margin of 24 to 13.

The victory gives the Badgers a .500 rating in the Western conference with two wins and two losses and boosts Coach Doc Meanwell's team to a tie for third place with Michigan and Minnesota.

It was another case of teacher mastering pupils for the Hawkeyes, under Coach Rollie Williams who learned his basket ball under Doc Meanwell at Wisconsin, were at the mercy of the vastly improved Badgers. A strong Badger defense kept the Hawks at bay for the greater share of the time, while an improved brand of shooting and all around defense display enabled the Badgers to pile up their points.

Lineup Shifted

The improvement was directly traceable to Coach Meanwell's shifted lineup in which Russ Tornoske, early season scoring leader, was again placed in the starting lineup at forward and Johnny Paul, guard, was moved up to center. Paul's play at center completely checked Rogers, Hawk star, who failed to count a single field goal. In all the Iowans only counter four field goals, one coming as the final gun sounded.

The visitors took an early lead, but were soon overhauled by the Badgers converting a 4 to 3 score against them into a 12 to 4 lead in seven minutes of play. From then on, with the Badger defense master of every situation, there was no doubt as the ultimate victor.

Helen Wills Moody To Be Ranked First In Net World

BY LAWRENCE PERRY Copyright, 1931

NEW YORK.—(CPA)—Information received by the writer makes for confidence that Mrs. Helen Wills Moody will not only be ranked No. 1 in the first flight of women players by the ranking committee of the United States Lawn Tennis association, but that she will also head the international list.

The feeling has been that since Mrs. Moody saw fit temporarily to retire from national tournament tennis after her return from abroad, not defending her title in 1930 at Forest Hills—it was won by Betty Nuthall of England—she would be ignored by the tennis rankers.

But she is so obviously and by so great a margin the greatest tennis player of her sex in the world that failure to rank her in the position that is hers beyond all argument would be nothing short of gross injustice to one who has served the interests of the sport of lawn tennis valiantly and with distinction.

All the chances are that Mrs. Moody will be found playing tennis on the Riviera in the early spring and that she will be the distinctive figure, man or woman, at Wimbledon.

John Doeg, the national singles champion, is keeping himself fit this winter by playing squash racquets at an athletic club in New Jersey, in which state, by the way is now working hard on the advertising staff of a prominent newspaper. Doeg is new to squash racquets but he is putting a lot of vim into the game and he says it will keep him in stroking condition for tennis.

Francis Shields' decision to go abroad for play on the Riviera will be approved by those who know the value of continental barnstorming as a developer of ability. The New York youth, critics believe, holds promise of assuming position as one of the greatest players this country has produced and his career abroad in 1931, terminating at Wimbledon, will be followed with general interest. Of particular moment will be his contests against that quartet of French lads who are now being groomed to carry on when Cochet, LaCoste, Borotra, Brugnon and Broussais begin to falter—as some of them, it seems, are now beginning to do.

JACKIE BERG SHOWS IN CHICAGO STADIUM

English Lightweight Will Meet Goldie Hess of Los Angeles

New York.—(AP)—Jack (Kid) Berg, great English lightweight, has picked Chicago as the starting spot for his latest American campaign.

The Whitechapel whirlwind, holder of the somewhat synthetic junior welterweight title and an outstanding contender of the lightweight championship as well, is matched with Goldie Hess of Los Angeles in the ten round feature bout of the Chicago Stadium's show Friday night. On the same card, Bat Battalino of Hartford, Conn., world's featherweight champion, meets one of the leading contenders for the title, Eddie Shea of Chicago, in an overweight affair in which the 126-pound crown will not be at stake.

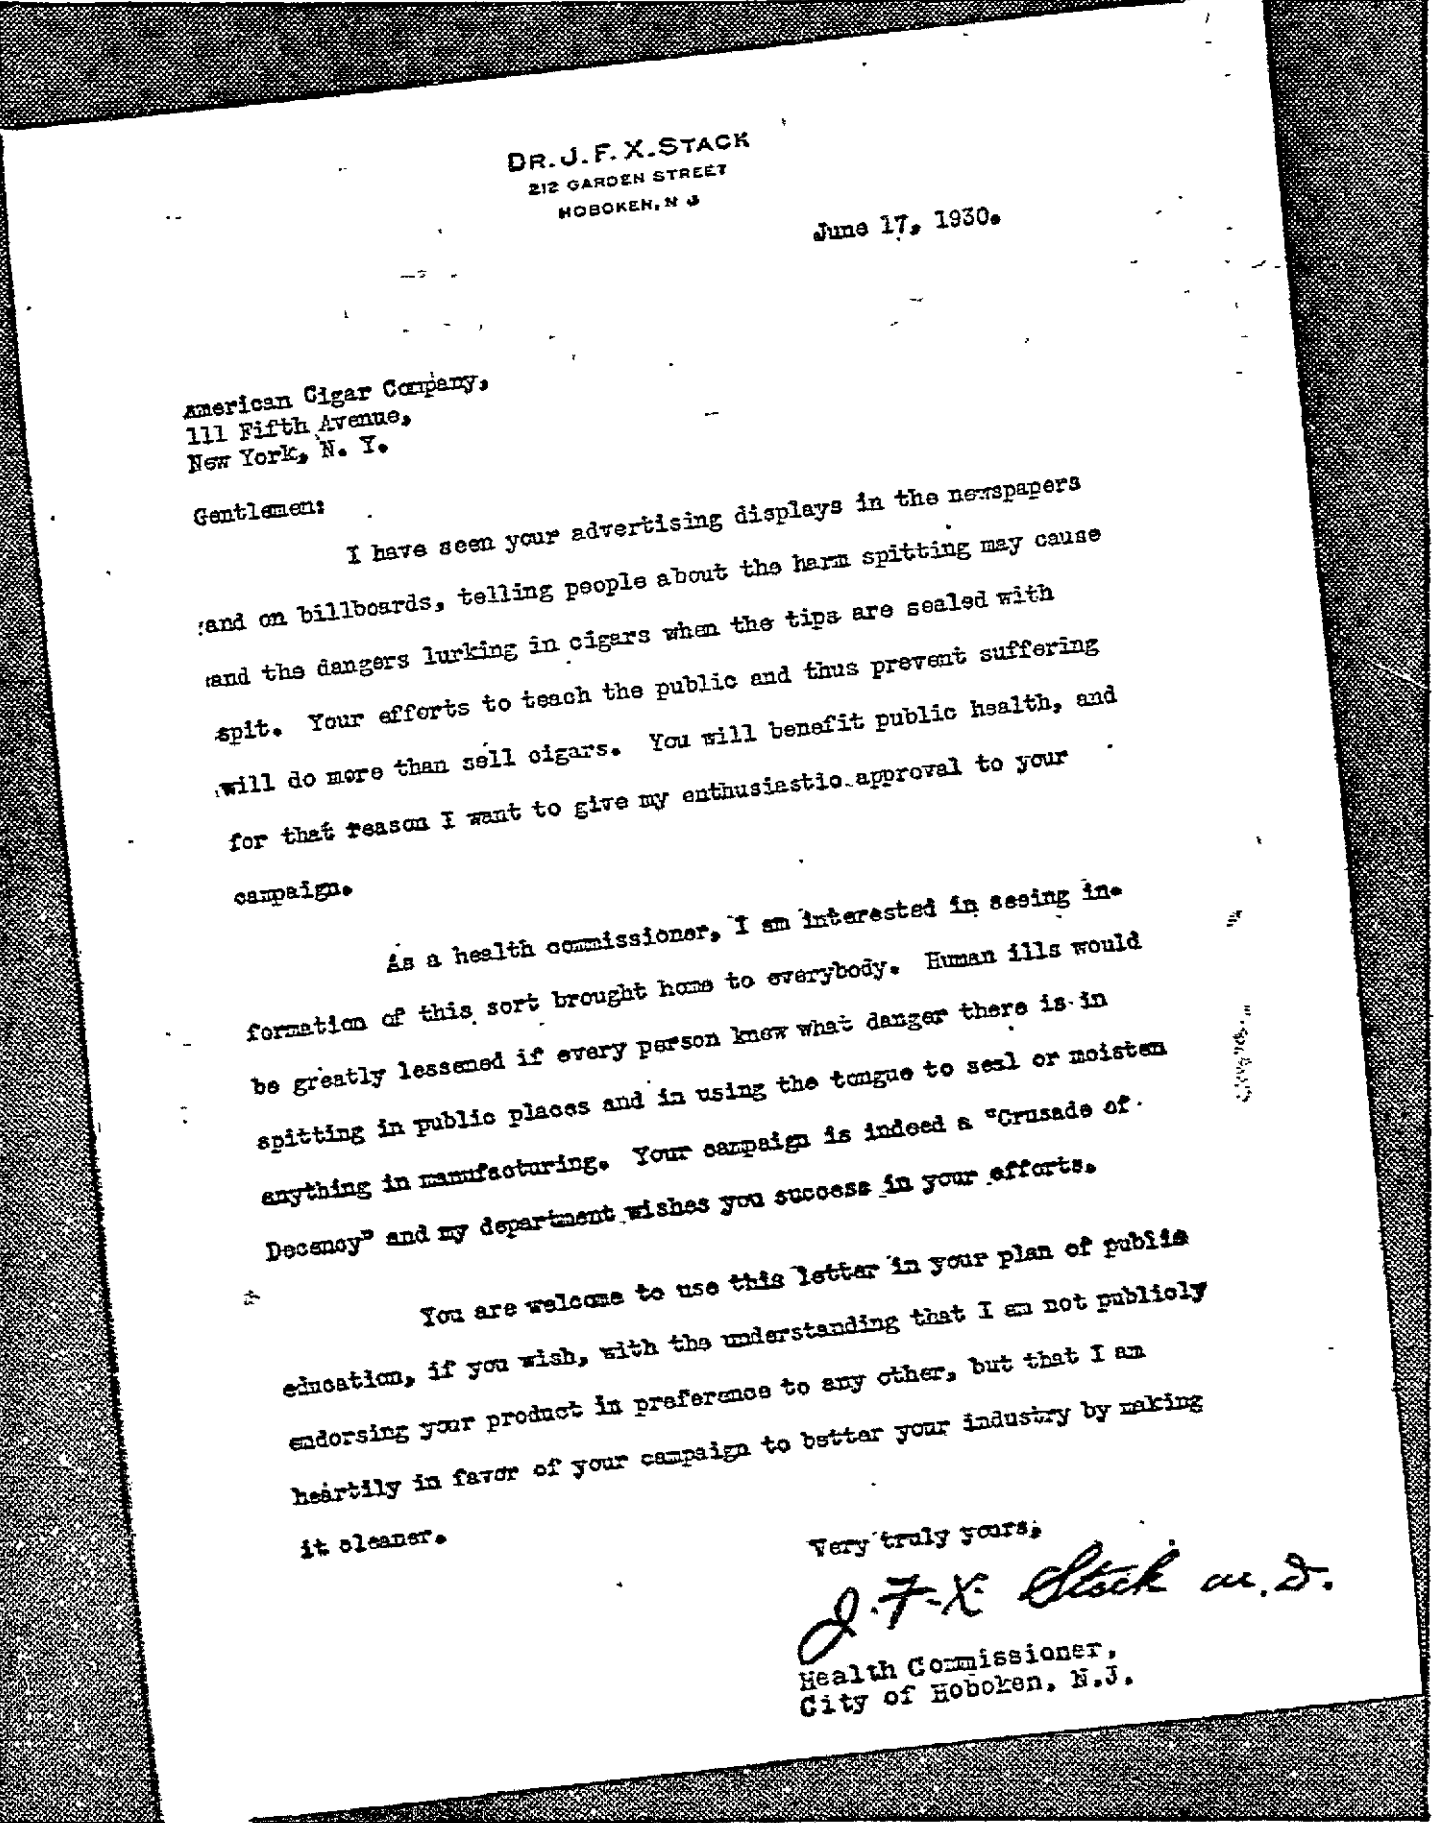

Ernie Schaaf, Boston heavyweight who outpointed Max Baer, highly touted California youngster, in his last start, returns to Madison Square Garden on Friday night in a ten round bout with James J. Braddock of Jersey City, former light heavyweight contender and now a full-grown heavyweight.

Larry Johnson, Chicago Negro heavyweight, takes on Paul Cavalier of New York in the ten-round semi-final.

Goshen, N. Y.—For second straight year, Hambletonian stake, rich classic for three-year-old trotters is awarded to Goshen track.

THE United Cigar Store basketball team leads the mob in the Y. M. C. A. Industrial League but it still is suffering the effects of a scare Saturday night when it eked out a win over the Schlafler Hardware 5, 21 and 20 and chalked up its sixth straight win. The other game of the evening also was a thriller, Co. D, five eked out a victory over the O. R. Kloebe company team, 22 and 20.

Co. D and O. R. Kloebe five staged the evening's first game, the Guards leading 13 and 5 at half time thanks to the shooting of Zuehlke and Bauers, the soldiers two forwards, who registered 10 points. The Kloebs took up the scoring in the second half and had a 12 to 9 margin for this period. However, the total of the two halves returned the Guards victors by a mere two points.

The strength displayed by the Schlaflers in their game with the Cigars was the big surprise of the evening. The team played the last couple minutes with only four players when Bender was ousted on personal fouls and came so close to counting a victory the Cigars still hate to think about it. The game was close throughout, the score being 11 all at half time. In the second half the teams paced each other point for point, the Cigars coming out ahead by virtue of an extra free throw.

Red Devils, Picked as Loop Favorites, Fight to Stay in Race

Kimberly—Kimberly High school cagers were handed another surprise and incidentally their second straight defeat Friday evening when they lost a close and hard fought game to the Hortonville cagers.

Coach Harper of Kimberly is at a loss for the reason why his team doesn't come through. His material is good and their floor work was good and they have taken the ball like veterans to the basket only to miss shots at the hoop. In order to tie up the conference for a chance of a play off, the Red Devils must win every game left in their schedule.

Friday's game was the last before semester examination reports and if none of the squad are lost and with the addition of Brouessau, a lanky center, who was kept from the squad during the first semester by registration rules. The Red Devils have a chance of still coping the conference title.

SATURDAY'S RESULTS
Bears 14, Beta Hi-Y 4.
Wolverines 12, Theta Hi-Y 9.

TWO games were staged Saturday afternoon in the Older Boy basketball league at the Y. M. C. A. but neither had much effect on the standings. The Wolverines downed the Theta Hi-Y team 12 and 9 while the Bears defeated the Beta Hi-Y club 14 and 4 in the other game. The win was the second this season for the Bears who have not been going so good.

The Wolverines had a close call in their fracas with the Theta Hi-Y team. Although the half ended with the wolves out in front 8 and 5, the Thetas made things interesting in the third quarter when Rossmessel counted two field goals and the Wolves found themselves trailing 9 and 8. Then Gainer made two free tosses and Braeger came through with a field goal and the Wolves won.

There never was any question about the outcome of the other game of the afternoon. The Bears stepped right out in front and dashed off a 12 to 0 lead for the first half. They then coasted along in the second half, getting six points to four for the Betas. The big lead in the initial half was too much to overcome.

"Say," he interviewed an interviewer, "when you play golf and your ball gets in a trap, do you say 'tsk-tsk-tsk,' or do you cuss?"

He answered his own question. "When you get in a fix like that, don't say 'pshaw,' or 'my gracious,' but walk up to the ball cuss it for all it's worth, and then sock it."

Scoville, a veteran despite his debut in the world's championship classic, was expected to give the Segalita, Mo., red head considerable opposition although Layton was the big favorite to win and thereby gain a head start on the field of seven challengers.

MICHIGAN BATTLES WILDCATS TONIGHT; MAY DECIDE CHAMP

Three More Games Carded in Western Conference for Saturday Night

CHICAGO—(P)—Northwestern's recognized "zero hour" in the Big Ten basketball championship campaign arrives at Ann Arbor tonight when the undefeated Wildcats tackle Michigan's in and out basketeers.

Not only will the result decide the current first place struggle between Chicago and the Wildcats but it may decide Northwestern's entire success in the badly scrambled race.

Ever since the schedule makers framed the campaign route, Northwestern has agreed it must defeat Michigan twice to keep its hopes of winning the title. Ten days ago the Wildcats staggered through to a 27 to 22 victory over their rivals but tonight looked like a harder battle.

Not since their one point victory in 1919 have the Wildcats defeated Michigan at Ann Arbor.

A victory for Michigan would give Chicago's surprising team the undisputed leadership with a record of two victories and no defeats to Northwestern's mark of two victories and one loss. A Northwestern triumph would give the Wildcats an edge, with three victories.

Four defeated teams, seeking higher rankings in the standings, will complete tonight's card, Indiana, tied with Ohio State for second place, will invade Iowa while Wisconsin, all but out of the race with a pair of defeats in four starts, will meet Minnesota at Minneapolis. Minnesota lost its first game in two starts to Chicago, 31 to 31, Saturday night and promised to give the Badgers a hard battle.

Three more games will be played Saturday night with Michigan at Chicago, Ohio State at Northwestern and Illinois at Wisconsin.

WOLVERINE SCORERS LEADING IN BIG TEN

Chicago—(P)—Norman Daniels and Ray Altenhof, Michigan's pair of sharpshooters, topped the field in the Big Ten basketball individual scoring race at the quarter mark today with identical records of 25 points each for four games.

Altenhof, one of the best sophomores-prospects at Michigan in years, climbed into first place with his teammate Saturday night by scoring seven points while Daniels was held to one field goal. Each has a record of nine field goals, and seven free throws.

Ben Miller, Indiana forward, possessed a better record than either of the leaders, however, despite the fact that he was in second place. Miller has scored 24 points in three games.

The individual scoring race closed up considerably after Saturday night's games, only eight points separating the leaders from the tenth place scorers.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

THE growth of horse racing since the war is shown in Chicago's tentative list of purposes for 1931, which total in the neighborhood of $2,500,000. Meetings will be held at Washington Park in June; at Arlington in July; Hawthorne in August, and Lincoln Fields in September. The season will open at Aurora May 1. Arlington has boosted the value of nearly every stake. The Classic will be $70,000 added money, which is $20,000 better than is offered in the Kentucky Derby or the Preakness. Hawthorne will probably offer $35,000 in added money, instead of $25,000 as heretofore, in the Gold Cup event. ...which may be taken as an encouraging sign in the face of the unemployment situation you have been hearing about.

KIMBERLY ALL-STARS DEFEATED IN DEBUT

Basel, Kuffel of Shipbuilders Get Nine Goals Each; Score 36-31

Kimberly—The entrance of the Kimberly All Stars into the professional basketball field was a fine exhibition of basketball although Manitowoc eked out a win, 36 to 31.

The game was exceedingly close during all stages. Clever shooting by both squads pulled up to a high score. Basel had a big evening sinking nine field goals. His teammate Kuffel playing the pivot position also sank nine field goals and a free throw to head the scoring column. These two sharpshooters accounted for every field goal made by the Shipbuilders.

Kimberly's counters were some what divided. Gogens led the field with five field goals and a couple of free throws. Courchane sank four field goals. Koll accounted for three. Cooke and Buch had each one to their credit.

Manitowoc led by a few points during the first period. Kimberly took a slight lead at the half, held the lead during the entire third period, and played the Shipbuilders on an even basis until about the last three minutes of play.

BLUE STREAKS IN WIN OVER NEENAH; INVADERS FORFEIT

Leave Ice in a Huff After Gil Krueger Suffers Injured Ear

APPLETON and Neenah valley league hockey teams started a game yesterday afternoon on the Jones park rink and it ended along near the end of the second period with the Blue Streaks, the Appleton entry, out in front 2 and 0. The end came abruptly and was entirely unforeseen, Neenah picking up its clubs and equipment and going home after Gil Krueger, diminutive wing, had been injured.

Whether the Neenahites had a right to call quits after Krueger's injury, is a question for the players and officials, league and otherwise. It is argued that there was a scramble to argue over the rink and when it was all over Krueger had a badly torn ear and several other fellows had badly strained ideas of playing and officiating.

The game started late, the players having to wait until the snow could be cleared off the ice. Then with about two or three minutes left to play in the first period, Eddie Helms took possession of the rubber and maneuvered it into position where he took a shot at the net and scored.

The rest period again saw the boys shoveling snow so they might locate the rubber in a manner other than watching its progress through the snow as it left a tail like a comet. The second period was pretty much like the first with each team sallying into the other team's territory. The period was well along when Joe Shields took the puck deep within his own territory and single handed dashed down the ice and scored.

A few minutes later came the scramble in which Krueger was injured and the boys went home in a huff. Appleton, so far has not been defeated in the league and has three victories to its credit.

Krueger was pretty much the Neenah offense. The former University of Wisconsin hockey team captain and star, getting away on several dashes that looked like scores. He is small and light, however, and was handled rather roughly at times, once getting a bump over the boards that left a couple bruises. Marquard, Neenah center, also came in for a share of the Neenah honors.

Team play and sensational individual play marked Appleton's efforts. The Streaks showed a fine defense around the net and were dangerous whenever they started places with the rubber. The team play was a bit ragged at times, however.

WILD BEAUTY

SYNOPSIS: Fanny Frost is the target of her mother-in-law's hatred and is not understood by her husband, David. She is unhappy even after the arrival of her baby, Sheila. In a moment of weakness she runs away with Bob Daniles, husband of David's cousin, Leila, but repents and returns, only to find her mother-in-law believes her guilty of wrongdoing, and David himself is suspicious. She goes again, this time for good to New York, and works in a store rather than accept aid from her husband. At first she insists on having the custody of Sheila half of each year, but abandons the idea after she sees the plan in actual operation with the child of a divorced woman neighbor, Mrs. Oliver. The divorce is arranged and Fanny assumes her maiden name of Freiburg.

Chapter 30
A NEW FRIEND
A YEAR and a half later Fanny sat alone in her new apartment on East 19th Street. If it had not been for Mrs. Oliver, Fanny still would have been living in one room. Her innate carelessness was a fearful handicap in making a living. After several attempts at other things, Fanny had resigned herself to clerking in the stores employing cheap, untrained help.

But this last summer Mrs. Oliver had sent her an advertisement from Hirschberg & Co., wholesale dress manufacturers, for a model. From Hirschberg & Co., wholesale Fanny and engaged her at a salary which seemed sheer affluence, after the hard to mouth existence of the past years.

Fanny shared a bathroom with a reader for a publishing house, Anne Lawson. A few months after Fanny had moved to her new apartment she went one evening with Anne and two others to a neighboring club to improve her mind by listening to Shakespeare. The place was crowded and Fanny had to take a place by herself at one side.

The reader was a distinguished elderly gentleman with an impressive manner and a dyed moustache who delivered the lines of the ghost of Hamlet's father in an awful bass. Hamlet's in baritone, the queen's in tenor and Ophelia's in high falsetto. Fanny, crouched low in her chair to hide her uncontrollable laughter, finally sat on the floor burying her head in her arms.

"Hain't you better get out here--before you're put out?" said an amused voice at Fanny's ear. Fanny had noticed a tall blond man in a dinner coat leaning against the wall with folded arms; he was her rescuer. Fanny managed to pull herself together as he led the way out by a side door.

"It was exactly like the story of the three bears," she gasped in explanation. "It was impossible after that to be unfriendly. The man introduced himself as Garrett Wentworth; Fanny gave her name.

"Look here," he said at her door. "I've had an awfully good time. I know Anne Lawson. If she says

"You belong in an age that had leisure for charm and graciousness," he continued. "You are a little impetuous perhaps, and you make mistakes, but I see you striving to live richly and beautifully."

"You pay pretty compliments--compliments that warm the very cockles of my vanity," she said lightly, "but I'm forced to confess that none of them are deserved. I am probably the most inefficient person on the face of the earth."

"Naturally. You were fore-dained to be taken care of. Some thing seems to have gone wrong; I don't know why you are living in one room--a very charming room--and supporting yourself. But I do know it's only a question of time until someone snatches you away to his chateau and his castle--probably some strong, ruthless, abominably handsome prince of finance. I loathe him already."

"Perhaps some day I will tell you my story. But not now. I'm too busy now trying to pick up the pieces and fit them together."

She told him far sooner than she expected. About 10 days later Garrett came in one rainy Sunday afternoon for tea. At dusk, as Fanny still sat at her tea table and as Garrett lounged at his ease in her one big overstuffed chair, he said simply, "You know I love you, don't you?"

Fanny glanced at him quickly in genuine alarm and distress. But she saw that he was smiling and smiled back in glad relief.

"I remember you told me you were privileged to be mildly enamored. I'm flattered."

"This is far more serious. I've loved you almost from the first, certainly from the second meeting. Perhaps I shouldn't have told you, since I cannot ask you to marry me. But I promise not to worry or distress you. I think I can be happy, reasonably happy, if you'll just let me go on loving you and seeing you occasionally. The hardest part is not to be able to take care of you."

It was then with her head bent over the tea table, one hand stirring the dregs of sugar in her cup, that Fanny badly sketched her story. She was hoping for a little reassuring sympathy, but she was utterly unprepared for the warmth of Garrett's rage. He sprang to champion her as against the cruelty of the wicked, and was insistent that she let him engage a lawyer and sue for the right to see her child. But Fanny was adamant.

Half subconsciously Fanny was deadly afraid of the Brownbecks. It was no use her trying to fight them; they always won her in a fight.

Even though Fanny is no longer in the family, Mrs. Frost still works actively against her. See Monday's chapter.

AWAIT REPORT OF CRIME BODY ON PROHIBITION

All Factions Expected to Air Views After Wickersham Is Heard

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1931, by Post Pub. Co.
Washington—(CPA)—The eleventh anniversary of federal prohibition has passed without more than casual attention on the part of congress. Senator Sheppard, author of the eighteenth amendment, made a speech pointing to the benefits he believes the country has received, arguing that a lower death rate and less crime has resulted from the dry laws.

But the relative silence now is merely because the already famous Wickersham commission has not yet made its report. A flood of debate is anticipated and judging by the rumors in circulation as to the varied views of the members of the commission, there will be plenty of opportunity for extreme wets and extreme dries and middle-of-the-road senators and representatives to find basis for their respective contentions.

Eleven years of prohibition have resulted in a debate throughout the country which has gradually grown in intensity. Facts and figures are given by all sides of the controversy with relatively little effect because there has been so much dispute it is difficult for disinterested persons to analyze the statistical data and claims.

U. S. Admits Defects
The admission that grave abuses have crept into the enforcement of prohibition is made by the federal government itself. The purpose of the Wickersham commission has been to find out more effective means of enforcement.

The issue has become more and more political in different parts of the country. Party lines have been broken by it and local elections have been influenced to no small extent by the mental agility of the candidates, who have managed to develop different degrees of wetness or dryness as the case may be.

Congress, with its ear to the ground, is watching the trend of public opinion. The present congress which enters on March 4 is overwhelmingly dry, while the next congress is still dry enough to prevent the adoption by a two-thirds vote of both houses of any amendment to the constitution proposing repeal of emancipation of the eighteenth amendment.

The executive branch of the government has gradually divested itself of the influence of the extreme dries and has felt that by so doing it was taking the cause of true prohibition, interference with private rights, the pursuit of petty violations and improper use of search warrants may be said to have contributed as much to the piling up of adverse sentiment as any fundamental objection to the merits of prohibition itself. The prohibition enforcement bureaus now are concentrating on the source of liquor supply and on the bootlegging rackets. The champions of this idea feel that the wet have gotten many of their recruits from the elements in America which have been outraged by border warfare, the firing on pleasure craft and the indiscriminate use of firearms in city streets.

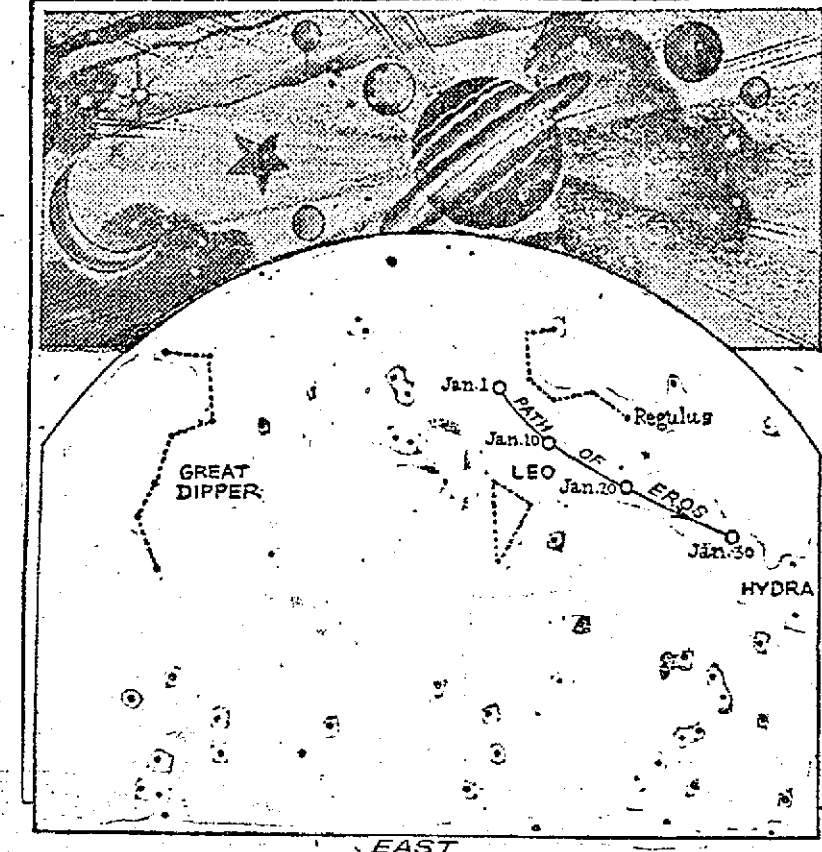

Home-Manufacture Issue
There is a group in government who think that by permitting home manufacture, for home use only, a distinction can be brought about between commercial traffic and private consumption in the home. Legal basis for such a policy, it is argued, might be found without any revision of the eighteenth amendment. If in the next year something of this kind is not attempted it is clear that the two national political conventions will be discussing prohibition either on the basis of repeal of the eighteenth amendment or revision to permit distinctions of this kind to be made.

The single lesson that 11 years have taught the legislators is that the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act are progressively increasing subjects of public interest in the densely populated states, many of which have never become reconciled even to the state enactments on the subject. The existence of large minorities in the wet states has not only complicated the problem of enforcement but has produced an agitation for repeal of the eighteenth amendment which has noticeably absent to the first six or seven years of prohibition. It may be said, therefore, that the next two years will furnish a test as to whether the agitation will be reduced in tenacity by the liberalizing of regulations or statutes or whether it will grow to the point of consideration by the states of an amendment for repeal or revision.

Tiny Planet Gets Close To Earth During January

The January eastern sky, late in the evening, is pictured here, showing the path of the asteroid Eros through the constellation Leo.

BY ROBERT H. BAKER
(Professor of Astronomy, University of Illinois)

Urbana, Ill.—(CP)—The outstanding astronomical event of January is the close approach to the earth of the tiny planet Eros.

On January 30, when nearest, it will be only 16 million miles away—much nearer than any other planet of our system.

Eros is one of hundreds of small planets, known as asteroids, which revolve around the sun, for the most part between the orbits of Mars and Jupiter.

The asteroids are cold, dark bodies like the earth, shining by reflected sunlight. The largest one, Ceres, is less than 500 miles in diameter, while the majority have diameters less than 50 miles. With the exception of Vesta they are invisible without a telescope.

During January Eros will move rapidly south through the constellation Leo. Its course lies a little to the east of the bright Sickle of Leo which now appears in the eastern sky rather late in the evening.

On January 30 it will have passed south of Leo into the small constellation Sextans near the celestial equator.

The interest of astronomers in the visit of Eros is not because it allows them to observe its surface, for this tiny planet is probably less than 20 miles in diameter, and even the largest telescope will show it only as a star.

The chief importance of the close approach on this occasion is that it is possible to measure the distance of Eros with greater precision than that of any other planet.

On this basis it then may be possible to calculate the sun's distance more accurately than ever before.

The sun's distance is the astronomical yardstick in terms of which all celestial distances are expressed. It fixes the scale of the physical universe for the mathematician.

The present value of the sun's distance is 93,870,000 miles. It may easily be in error by as much as 20,000 miles, that is to say, two hundredths of one percent.

Since the discovery of Eros, in 1898, this is the first really good opportunity to observe it at close range.

High School Seniors, Principal Will Meet
The seniors of Appleton high school will hold conferences with Herbert Heible, principal, starting Tuesday. The conferences have been a practice at the school for several years. These are to be held during the free periods whenever Mr. Heible can devote his time. Several weeks will be required to complete the conferences, as there are 240 seniors this year. A complete check of credits from the ninth grade will be made. Students will be told how many credits they lack for diplomas.

SOME POSTOFFICES IN STATE DOOMED UNDER NEW PLANS

Number of Fourth Class Stations Must Go, Brown Decides

BY RUBY A. BLACK
Post-Crescent Washington Correspondent

Washington—Bingo, Wis., is no more. Mishike, Wis., will cease to exist on Jan. 31.

The abolition of these and other fourth class post offices in Wisconsin are a part of Postmaster General Walter Brown's policy of making the "postal service pay its own way" which is meeting strenuous opposition in Congress.

After Jan. 15, mail once addressed to the town with the delightful name, Bingo, must go to Wills, and mail for Mishike must go to Winchester after Jan. 31. For the past year or two, the Post Office department has been consolidating rural mail routes, discontinuing fourth class post office, and effecting other "economies" which have caused congressmen much grief and many trips to the Post Office department. Sometimes Wisconsin congressmen have succeeded in having rural mail service restored; sometimes they have failed; always curtailment of the service has brought many complaints from those whose mail is delayed or who are forced to go farther to get it.

Postmaster General Brown has been trying to get the first class mail rate changed from 1 cent to 2 cents. Congress alone has the power to change the rate, and not one congressman can be found to introduce a bill authorizing the increase.

Protest Higher Rates
Then the postmaster general started action to get the Interstate Commerce commission to increase the parcel post rate, and more protests began to pile into congressmen's offices.

Rep. Clyde Kelly of Pennsylvania, a Republican member of the Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads, probably enjoys the unique distinction of having made the only speech in Congress this session with which every member of Congress heartily agreed. In this speech, against an increase in the letter mail rate, Rep. Kelly said:

"Now, I do not believe that such an objective is worthy of the United States postal service. The balance sheet is not the primary but a secondary consideration. Rather I would say that the paramount duty of Congress is to maintain the postal service as a public utility."

A Milwaukee concern the Norberg Manufacturing company, has just been awarded a government contract to make a $33,980 air compressor for the Boston Navy Yard.

The Treasury has accepted the site on the south side of Grand avenue for the new post office building at Wisconsin Rapids, paying $20,000 for it. The total cost of the building and site is limited to $125,000.

Schafer Bill Lost
Rep. John C. Schafer of Milwaukee sought to have an appropriation bill amended to provide that no mon-

of this congress, which alone has the right power to determine the objective of the Post Office Department, is to continue in the path followed by Congress for a century and a half of marvelous postal progress. The true objective is to furnish the most complete and useful postal facilities which can be devised, and to do that whether the postal revenues meet the full cost or whether the general treasury is chargeable for part of the expense.

"Congress has always wisely maintained that the post office establishment is not a money-making agency but an instrument of service."

First class mail, Rep. Kelly pointed out, cleared nearly $71,000,000 during the last fiscal year. Second class mail lost $39,000,000. Third class lost $21,000,000. Fourth class lost $15,000,000. Fourth class mail cost nearly $20,000,000. That is, the cost exceeded the receipts by these amounts. Yet the Post Office Department sought to increase the rate on the only class now paying its own way.

"Free Mail" Costly
"Free mail," including mail franked by government departments, by congressmen, by others to whom the franking privilege has been extended, and mail free for the blind cost the government more than $8,500,000, of which nearly $4,000,000 is charged to the post office department itself.

But the deficit of the department amounts to something like $58,000,000, so abolition of the franking privilege would not wipe out the deficit.

Congressmen remember that the act performed by virtually every citizen which most surely shows his faith and confidence in his government is the simple act of dropping a letter in a post office or mail box. The citizen who does this does it with full confidence that the letter will be duly collected, sent to its destination, and delivered with the greatest possible speed. They fear any curtailment of postal service which endangers the faith the citizen shows when he mails his letter.

Therefore, they are working for improvements in the mail service and against an increase in the rates.

The Treasury has accepted the site on the south side of Grand avenue for the new post office building at Wisconsin Rapids, paying $20,000 for it. The total cost of the building and site is limited to $125,000.

Schafer Bill Lost
Rep. John C. Schafer of Milwaukee sought to have an appropriation bill amended to provide that no money could be used to pay the salaries of government employees who tap telephones or telegraph wires. Even since the Supreme Court held that evidence obtained by wire-tapping in a prohibition case was legal, with Justice Louis D. Brandeis writing a magnificent dissenting opinion setting forth the principle of the right of the people to security in their homes and effects, Rep. Schafer has been trying in various ways to prevent wire-tapping. But his amendment was defeated, and his bill has never been reported from committee.

A hearing on the proposal for further improvement of Milwaukee harbor will be held before the rivers and harbors board here Tuesday.

Wants Bill's Job

Another candidate for Big Bill Thompson's job as mayor of Chicago appeared when George K. Schmidt, above, resigned as city controller to file as the sixth contender for the Republican nomination. His candidacy is especially interesting because of rumors that Mayor Thompson will withdraw from the race and throw his support to Schmidt.

Rep-elect Gardner Withrow of La Crosse and A. W. Zeratsky, a La Crosse attorney, were Washington visitors during the past week. So were George Vita of Manitowoc, Republican national committeeman from Wisconsin Mrs. Vita.

New Appointments
Wisconsin men who have recently accepted appointments or promotions in the Army reserves includes: Clarence Albert Loesch, Menasha, and Nelson DeWayne, Milwaukee, lieutenant colonels in the Infantry. Lt. Col. Loesch was recently nominated for postmaster at Menasha, Olin Gunson Dryer, Kaukauna, major, Field Artillery; Douglas Harmon Woodworth, Eau Claire, Louis Michael Haas, Racine, and William John Glasbrenner, Milwaukee, captains, Infantry.

Charles Leasum, Sturgeon Bay, Medical Corps; James Carl Langer, Sturgeon Bay, Chemical Warfare; Clarence Axel Tolme, Milwaukee, Dental Corps, and Harry Marion Campbell, Milwaukee, Infantry, all first lieutenants.

Francis Louis DeMan, Green Bay, Armin Carl Baer, Bloomer, Roland John Henning, Superior, all second lieutenants in the Infantry; Leonard Orland Hanson, La Crosse, second lieutenant, Medical Administration; Herman Harvey Holtz, Oconto, and James Serl Ritchie, Superior, second lieutenants, Quartermaster Corps; Kenneth Kermit Lindquist, Milwaukee, and Joseph Delos DaBour, Eau Claire, second lieutenants, Cavalry; Austin Edward Kittner, Green Bay, and Norman Andrew Rick, Wausau, second lieutenants, Field Artillery.

The crisis came when the Commissioner of Internal Revenue ruled that this new oleomargarine was subject only to the one-fourth cent tax rather than the 10-cent tax imposed upon artificially colored butter substitutes. The palm-oil gives the new product a yellow color like butter and the commissioner ruled that it is not artificially colored and therefore not subject to the higher tax.

Congressmen are seeking a reversal of this ruling of the Internal Revenue bureau, but if the reversal is not granted, they will immediately seek amendment of the law to include the new butter substitute under the classification providing for a tax of 10 cents a pound.

The Committee on Agriculture of the House of Representatives will start hearings on all dairy bills Wednesday with the hope of getting action this session.

SCHNEIDER IS IN FIGHT OVER OLEO

Appleton Representative on Committee Representing State in Battle

(Post-Crescent Wash. Bureau)
Washington—A committee of four members of the Wisconsin congressional delegation is representing the state in the controversy over the newly developed palm-oil oleomargarine which presents formidable new competition to butter.

Reps. Merlin Hull of Black River Falls, Charles A. Kading of Watertown, Michael K. Reilly of Fond du Lac, and George J. Schneider of Appleton were chosen at a meeting of the Wisconsin delegation to cooperate with committees of congressmen from other dairy states in this matter.

COUNCIL WILL CONSIDER NEW MILK MEASURE

Aldermen Expected to Adopt Proposed Ordinance Tuesday Night

Kaukauna—Adoption of a city milk ordinance is anticipated at the city council meeting at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening in the municipal building. A proposed ordinance was presented to the council at the last meeting, but several objections were made to certain clauses by milk dealers.

At the suggestion of Mayor B. W. Fargo, the council have made written recommendations to correct objectionable sections. It was brought out that the ordinance is sought only to protect the health of residents. The milk dealers favored a high license fee, although some of the aldermen thought such action probably would put small dealers out of business. However, a license fee will be included in the ordinance. The amount will be set by the council.

One of the objections was that pasteurized milk is permitted to contain more germs per cubic centimeter in its raw state than that which is not pasteurized. Another clause objected to was that a person owning one cow could sell milk which was not bottled, while other dealers would be required to bottle all their milk.

Proposed extension of the tax payment period also will be considered. In former years an additional month was allowed tax payers to pay their taxes.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative safe and pleasant.

No griping is the "key-note" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

WINNEBAGO BACKS BUILDING OF SOIL

Special Program to Improve Crops Adopted in Adjoining County

Oshkosh—Appreciating that improving methods and machinery may only speed up soil degradation unless care be given to soil building, Winnebago county farmers are engaging in a plant food reclamation program.

"Improvement in farm machinery, roads and power during the past 25 years has facilitated more extensive farming, depleting the soil rapidly," declared a representative of the county agricultural committee recently. "We are buying coal, oil, and electricity for current use instead of using from farm products instead of using wood, hay, and oats, he added. These facts lead us to believe that unless there is a soil building or plant food reclamation program adopted and put into practice by the end of another quarter of a century much of the land now under cultivation will not longer be fertile enough to produce profitably."

With this thought in mind the agricultural forces of the county are featuring soil improvement as their main project for 1921.

"We have learned that too much land, too much seed, too much labor are being used to bring about the necessary production," commented the member of the agricultural committee already quoted.

"As the major portion of our farm products is fed to livestock, our success or failure will depend largely upon the efficiency of our livestock. Figures taken from Winnebago County Pure Bred Dairy Herd Improvement Association records reveal the fact that the cost of producing butter fat varies from 18 cents to 48 cents per pound, depending upon the cow that produced it."

The main object in the organization of this testing association was to cull pure bred seed stock to eliminate the 48 cent producers and breed 18 cent producers to improve the dairy herds of Winnebago-co."

NEW LONDON CO-OP SHOWING PROGRESS

Officers to Meet Monday to Help Organize Branch at Manawa

BY W. F. WINSEY
New London—Thus far the officers and the board of directors of the New London Pure Milk Products' Co-operative have done as well as any other local of the cooperative in Wisconsin, according to R. P. Ames, fieldman of the cooperative.

On Monday the officers, directors and some of the other members are planning to meet with the dairymen about Manawa to assist in starting a local with the patrons of the Manawa milk plant as members. On Saturday a large delegation of the members and officers of the New London local attended the mass meeting of the dairy farmers at Appleton. Local farmers are of the opinion that the experience of the New London dairymen will be worth considerable to them in their organization activities.

The New London local of the Pure Milk Products' Cooperative has enrolled 347 patrons of the local milk plant as members out of a total of 440. As full-unders the balance of the patrons of milk plant will squeeze into the cooperative as rapidly as the contracts can be presented to them, it is expected.

The officers of the New London cooperative are: Curt Rogers, president; Art Winkler, secretary; and Herman Stichtman, treasurer; and the directors are: Lary Smith; Ernest Thoma; John Flanigan; Charles Larson; Mike Kittner; and Elden Babcock.
